TO THE WEST! TO THE WEST!

Before making your arrangements to fol ow the advice of the "thousands who have already gone," it would be we'l to consider what has been done to make the journey to your "Homes in the West" as pleasant and free from danger as human skill and foresight can accomplish.

By consolidation and construction, a road has been put into operation on the shortest possible line from Nashville, Tenn., to St. Louis, "the future great City of the world." This line, the ST. LOUIS & SOUTHEASTERN RAIL-has, during the past year, earned an enviable reputation by its smooth track, prompt time, sure connections, and the magnificence of its passenger equipment. Its trains are made up of new and commodious day cars, provided with the celebrated Miller coapler and platform, and the Westinghouse air-brake.

It is possitively the only line running Pullman Palace Drawing-Boom Sleeping Cars through without change from Nashvilleto St. Louis. No other line pretends to offer such advintages, either in distance, time, or equipment. Why, then, journey by circuitous routes? Do not be induced to purchase tickets to St. Louis or the West by any other line, remember that

The "St. Louis & Southeastern" is the shortest, cheapest, quickest, best and only line under one management from Nashville to St. Louis, and is from 60 to 200 miles the shortest to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, California, Texas, and all western points. It is also the "Chicigo Shortest Line," via Evansville.

You can secure the cheapest rates for yourselves and your movables on application, in person or by letter, to CHARLES McCabs, Southern Passenger Agent, near College street Depot, Nashville, Tenn., or to the undersigned.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

By His Excellency, the Governor of North EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, Raleigh, October 22d, 1873,

Raleigh, October 22d, 1873,
Whereas, The people of North Carolina have been abundantly blessed during the past year, and the earth hath yielded bounteously of all the products of its soll so that the garners of the husbandman are filled to overflowing; and the industrious mechanic has realized a rich reward for his labor, and every class of our population prospered in all laudable enterprises; and Whereas, above all, fraternal feelings and good will have in a great measure been restored in our midst, and no plague, pestilence or famine, has visited our State: Now, therefore, as it becomes us, a grateful people, to render thanks to Almighty God for these and numberless other blessings showered upon us in His great mercy, I, Tod R. Caldwell, Governor of North Carolina, in obedience to law and in conformity with an honored precedent, do appoint and set apart

Thursday, November 27th, 1873,

as a day of public Thanksgiving throughout the State; and I do earnestly invite the elergy of every denomination to open their respective houses of worship on said day, and to exhort their congregations to humble themselves before the throne of the ever living God, and render unto Him praises which are justly due, invoking for themselves, their State and their whole country. His guidance and protection throughout all time to come.

"O come, let us sing unto the Lord, let us make a joyfal noise to the Rock of our salvation."

A PROCLAMATION, By the President of the United States of America.

The approaching close of another year brings with it the occasion for renewed thanksgiving and acknowledgment to the Almighty Ruler of the Universe for the unnumbered mercies which He has bestowed upon us.

Abundant harvests have been among the rewards of industry. With local exceptions health has been among the many blessings enjoyed. Tranquility at home and peace with other nations have prevailed. Frugal industry is regaining its merited recognition and its mer-

Gradually, but, under the providence of God, surely, as we trust, the nation is recovering from the lingering results of a dreadful civil strife.

For these and all the other mercies vouchsafed, it becomes us as a people to return heartfelt and grateful acknowledgments, and with our thanksgiving for blessings we may unite prayers for the cessation of local and temporary sufferings.

I, therefore, recommend that on Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of November next, the people meet in their respective places of worship, to make their asknowledgments to Almighty God for offer to Him prayers for their continu-

Proposals for Relief.

By the President: HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State.

Should the Legislature advertise immediately on its assembling that proposals for the relief of the people would be received by the Lieutenant Governor and Speaker, it is likely that these two gentlemen would be flooded with propositions. Many members doubtless will go to Raleigh with their little and great plans to help the State in the present will be well digested, and be of a nature the burdens under which they stagger.

desirable that subjects which are not of prime consideration be kept of view, at least until something is actually done which will lighten the pressure for the present, and, if possible, for the future. The attempt will be made to bring, at once, before the Legislature, the subject of the special tax bonds and the other indebtedness of the State, and while much time and money will be expended, nothing which looks to relief from actual and present ills will be done. The people have never been called on to-pay a dime for the purpose of paying the special tax bonds or interest, and it is nothing but the sheerest buncombe to be harping on that subject, when it is not prominently before the people. In other words, we do not care a straw for the special tax bonds, so long as the holders only keep them, and do not attempt to make North Carolina pay them or the interest thereon. Much ink has been shed about them-doubtless more than they are worth-and if they are not worth anything it is the best thing to let them remain at their present value.

It is remarkable that the people continue to groan under burdens, while crops usually have been so bountiful and prices so good. Although, not admitting the entire correctness and precision of the census reports, yet their estimates are an approximation to the truth. From the census of 1870 something is learned of the money value of the crop of 1869. The amount is almost incredible, and that year was no better than usual. There must be some profound cause and worth the searching, when the industry of a people is as severely taxed as is ours. Not a direct tax laid by the government, but by institutions and corporations authorized by the Legislature. By the necessities of a debt burdened people, our State is taxed beyoud its power of bearing.

We would ask the question, but do not expect an answer, What is the average interest demanded and collected by the banks in this State? We cannot tell. We have some statements from an officer of one of the banks, but they are not for print. It is enough to say that the banks are making money faster, perhaps, banks are making money faster, perhaps, than any other corporations, firms, or enterprises. The earnings of labor are absorbed by capital faster here than anywhere in the world.

"Isaac," said Mrs. Partington, after the fundsylle, Mo, there is to be dreadful doings this afternoon? The minister gave out that he should dip four adults and ten adulteresses."

"Isaac," said Mrs. Partington, after the fundsylle, Mo, there is to be dreadful doings this afternoon? The minister gave out that he should dip four adults and ten adulteresses."

"Isaac," said Mrs. Partington, after the fundsylle, Mo, there are the fundsylle,

Can the Legislature give a remedy? We cannot tell. An effort in this direction should however be made. The Banks go into the market as borrowers, compete with their own customers. We do not believe that there is a bank of deposit simply and purely, at a very low rate of interest, in the State. The prevailing impression is that eight per cent is paid by the banks on all deposits, which are again loaned by the borrowers at a greatly advanced rate; thus causing those who use borrowed capital to pay interest to two lenders.

The attention of the Legislature in earnestly called to this and kindred subjects. If they will remain in session contrary to the spirit of the lately adopted amandments, it is within their power to do some good. But we are not hopeful. There are too many political jobs to be done, for them to seriously consider any project which looks to the real benefit of the State.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

- As an evidence of the want of room for the actual transaction of its legitimate business, the amount the Interior Department pays for rent of buildings alone is $22, 400 per annum.

- Of the total number of immigrants arrived during the quarter ending June 30, 138, 304 landed at New York, 18, 520 at Huron, 15, 475 at Boston, 11, 771 at San Francisco, 8, 604 at Baltimore, 2, 431 at Portland, and 1,038 at New Or-

- Here is another of those delightful facts of science: " Feeling is a much slower sense than sight. If a man had His bounties and His protection, and to an arm long enough to reach the sun, and were to touch that body with the tip of his finger, he would never find out whether it were hot or cold, as he would be dead before the sensation arrived at headquarters, which would require one hundred years."

> - We'd credit the following good thing if we knew to whom the credit is duc: "The drummers came down like wolves on the fold; their toes were all frosted, their noses all cold. Their weather-peeled bugles soon shone through the town; they gobbled the money and saulted it down; then took a few orders and lit out of here, with their heads full of business and skins full of beer."

- According to the last census of Paris there are 30,000 Americans permanently residing in that city, subdivided thus: Louisianians, nearly 20,000; Virginians, 5,000; other Southern States, emergency. We hope that one or more 3,000; North and West, 2,000. The vast preponderance of Southerners in Paris to sensibly relieve the people of some of is due to causes which arose during and have risen since the war. The New In the first place it is exceedingly Orleans Times says that most of the Louisianians residing in the French capital are "absentees." who live there on the rents of their property in New Orleans and in the State.

It looks now as if when the time comes to settle the railroad question, as it is called, there would be no railroads to settle. The Northern Pacific has gone into Cimmerian darkness; the Chesapeake and Ohio has become a Wall street tradition; the Texas Pacific has disappeared in the financial gulf; in Kansas, Georgia, Alabama, and other States, various lines are more or les paralyzed. Railroad Presidents are resigning or going into bankruptcy; in fact, there is a general "smash-up" all around. The Grangers had better up, or there will be nothing left for them

- The return of Hon. S. S. Cox to Congress by so large a majority is quite complimentary to him. Mr. Cox is a gentleman of fine social qualities, and always personally popular at the capital. His political influence among the Democrats is potential, and he has well merited the respect of his opponents in the House, where he has serves so long. The New York Evening Post, in a complimentary allusion to Mr. Cox's election, says: "Cox is a good deal of a partisan, but we do not belive that he will allow party affinities to blind him to the fact that the realization of a sound economical system is just now of far more mportance than any mere party

The Charlotte Observer says that the North Carolina Railroad Co. has largely reduced the number of its employees and has made a deduction of ten per cent in the wages of those retained.

Two colored boys indulged in a fight in Charlotte on Thursday night about ten cents, and now the doctors are trying to replace a part of the lungs of one of them, and the sheriff is looking for the other and cant find him.

The Salisbury Watchman is wrong in supposing that Mrs. Carter has been acquitted of the charge of murdering little Willie Carter. Her case was severed from that of the colored boys for obvious reasons, and stands for trial at the next term of court.

Let no one that there are more than a hundred orphans at the Oxford Asylum, and that unless the charitable and those whom God has blessed with the means, do something for the poor little fellows, they will suffer greatly during the coming winter, even if the Instituis not closed for the want of funds to keep it going.

The Macon, Ga., Telegraph gives a very complimentary and well merited notice of the exhibition of paintings by the pupils of Peace Institute, Raleigh, at the Georgia State Fair; it says: There is in this same department a large number of paintings and crayons, exhibited by Prof. Stephens, as the work of the pupils of Peace Institute, Raleigh, N. C. There are many good paintings in the collection, but the crayons are especially good. Professor Stephens has come a long way with this contribution to the State Fair, and we hope the people will evince a due appreciation of it.

Leases not seldom contain a covenant that the tenant shall keep the premises in good order and repair. As to just what this covenant may mean, however there is considerable difference of opinion, and sometimes the intervention of a Judge and jury are necessary to settle the question. A case of this kind has been on trial in the Superior Court of Baltimore, in which the Judge, in charging the jury, described the legal aspect of the matter. The word "keep' he said, implied an obligation to put the premises in repair if they were out them so, for it would be idle to stipulate of his appointment as Assignee in the folto keep in repair what is not in repair, and the covenant was, therefore, equivalent to "put and keep and deliver up" in good order and repair. The real difficulty, however, was in the words 'good order and repair." These words, he said, meant such a reasonable condition of fitness as belongs to houses of the age, class, and condition, as good repair for one might not be for another. It was not necessary that an outgoing tenant should repaint and repaper, but only keep the paint and paper in such condition as is consistent with the use; not allow the house to be defaced; use it with proper and reasonable care; and deliver it up as it may be left after such care. The Judge remarked that there was no custom or rule of law by which an outgoing tenant was obliged to repaper, unless under a distinct and welldefined agreement to that effect. On the other hand, there is no implication that the tenant shall keep the premises as received. The obligation to keep in good order and repair does not mean to keep the house in the condition, in which it is received, but in a condition that is reasonable. - New York Times.

To BE HOPED .- The Legislature convenes on the third Monday in Novemthat immediate steps will be taken to afford temporary relief to our heavil burdened people by granting the Sheriff an extension of time in which to make his returns, thereby saving the sacrifice of property by distress. The citizens of New Hanover and adjoining counties, and the merchants of our city, are so mutually dependent upon each other, that every effort should be made to save the one by assisting the other. Confidenee and temporary relief is all that is necessary now for our citizens.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST:

I notice a long communication from J. W. Atkinson, President Cape Fear Water Work Company, addressed to the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Wilmington, in which he proposes to furnish the city with 100 hydrants at $75 each, yearly rent; amounting in the aggregate to $7,500 and that to be continued for the term of 25 years, amounting to the round sum of $187,-500 and he generously proposes to pay boy was seen running across Market a dividend of 18 per cent. upon the street with a pair of ducks in his hand, preferred stock, and estimates that 30 and was stopped by the officer and made per cent. will be paid upon the stock to tell where he got them. The orange and pink tinges in the Heavens slowly faded into cold grays, and as the lights appear, and Saturday night be-The attendance on the streets and mong the many trading marts is rather larger than usual. The crowds are noisy and inclined to be boisterous, the delightful days and remarkably pleasant nights having a tendency to lighten the hearts of all, even the humblest in the land. But above the din of the hucksters, and the familiar shouts of recognition among the happy-go-lucky fellows, the laughter of the careless and the quarrels of the surly, can be heard the perpetual squeak of those little rubber toys now being industriously circulated among our juveniles at five cents each. Oh, why was not the brain crazed before it conceived this intolerable nuisance? What have we done that our ears should be assailed at every corner with this piercing and prolonged squeak? Go away, you youthful vender of toy balloons and annoying squeaks; seek some more congenial clime; "go West,' where we will hear of you no more forever. Before you came, our hours were passed in peace and quiet, but now, alas, we suffer! It is astonishing how little we appreciate the comforts we enjoy in this life. Before these plagues were introduced, we fretted over small, imaginary trials, knowing and caring nothing of this one to come. How calm and happy now seems the scenes heretofore depicted on the streets! Then we merely heard shouts and rows, and hootings and songs. Now we hear this penetrating penny trumpet sound in ber, which is the 17th. There is one great consolation, however, even in the harrowing picture, and that is, they don't > last but a very short time. The weather of late has been so delightful and particularly favorable to fishermen, that an unusually large number of fish carts have put in an appearance. In fact, a larger number are present to-night than we have seen on Saturday night for a year past, and all are heavily laden. Upon a call of the roll, we find that "skipjacks" are largely in the majority. We are tired to-night of the noise and bustle. We have elbowed our way along Market street, now-thanks to an energetic policeman-kept open enough to enable one to walk a block without coming in contact with baskets or pails, and see but familiar sights. A friendly light attracts our attention, and we fol. low. Up one flight of stairs we come to the Young Mens' Christian Association Rooms in Masonic Hall. Seated at a table are several young men quietly reading. On one side of the room is a long reading desk, covered with files of the leading papers from various cities, including the Post of Wilmington. On the opposite side, is a small but fine library, for the comfort of visitors, while the walls are adorned with handsome portraits of our city clergymen. This is an institution of which our city should be proud, and yet it languishes, have a water works company of their and can do but little, comparatively, own. If any such result will flow as because of its lack of encouragement. these sanguine promoters would predict, Awake, young men, and put your shoulone of the chief objections might be ders to the wheel. Unite with this Asurged to the city taking this matter in sociation and build it up to greater charge would be that some colored man fields of usefulness. Standing here, might get an office. Not knowing viewing this silent scene, our mind wanders back to the unwritten history not learn. Can't the dog be arrested for formed that the city would have no au- of this quiet hall. Built long ago by thority under the Constitution to con- the Fraternity, whose name it bears, it tract a debt or lend its credit, except by was for many years the principal hall a special act of the Legislature and a in the town. Here the beloved and novote of the people. It would be well ble Henry Clay was entertained during for the Mayor and Aldermen perhaps, the memorable campaign of 1844 and to be advised on this subject. I don't but a few days before he wrote the propose to enter into any discussion fatal Texas letter, which undoubtedly defeated him. Here, while youth and but simply make this suggestion, that | beauty swarmed about him to do him our people, who are now complaining honor, his tall form enveloped in his accustomed black, and his gray hair marking the strong contrast, falling upon his shoulders, he felt the hand clasp of our best citizens, too many of whom have followed him in death even to the silent tomb. Here was that memorable floral arch, with his name in pure white cape jassamines which fell with a crash while he was worshiping for a time at the shrine of beauty .--

red some ten years ofter. Here, too, was and many menstil among uses honored citizens aided and advocated until the old fogy line of steamers from here to Charleston was driven away, and the town took a new impetus. Here, too, was quartered the Edgecombe Volumteers, under command of Captain L. T. Wilson, the old hero, who resigned his seat in the State Senate to take this command to Mexico, because the Whigs said it was Polk's fight, and discouraged enlistments. But enough. We have said sufficient to attest the sacredness of the old walls, still owned and sustained by that mysterious Masonic Fraternity stars come out of the deep blue sky the | whose origin is in the darkness of ages | bbl. past, and have but to say that the old hall was never better occupied than it now is, by this Christian Association. Working, as it does, hand in hand with Masonry, its proper asylum is under the same roof, and we hope it will remain > there for many years. With the memories of the old hall in our mind, we again traverse the streets, but the crowds are growing less, and the stores are closing. The carriages and baggage wagons hasten from the hotels, bearing the guests and their luggage to the depot, the now familiar tinkle of the street car bell is heard bearing others in the same direction, each one intent upon his own plans and thoughts, and the meon came up into the cold sky, and shines upon the changing scene with her chilling beams. One by one the street lamps go out as the attendant goes his accustomed rounds, the stars pale before the growing moonlight, and the city is apparently at peace.

"HIDE AND SEEK," "The Dead Se eret," "The Stolen Mask," and "After Dark," by Wilkie Collins, from the great publishing house of Peterson Bros., Philadelphia, are before us. All the admirers of Mr. Collins will hail this cheap reprint of his works with pleasure. These volumes are for sale at P. Heinsberger's Live Book Store.
